Gatton Education Abroad

Why study abroad?

Education abroad is more than just taking classes in another country. It's an experience that will prepare you to be a global citizen and a world-ready professional.

Skills that employers look for that can be cultivated through an education abroad experience include:

What Programs Are Available?

We offer different types of education abroad experiences to best fit your schedule and your comfort level with traveling. Programs are offered throughout the year. When you study abroad, you can go with fellow UK students and attend classes taught by UK professors, you can participate in an exchange program, or you can even go abroad through a third-party program.

"My experience in Iceland really sparked my interest in sustainable energy, and it became a future career path. All students should have this experience, and Gatton will support them along the way."

"Studying abroad in China was a wonderful experience for me. Not only did I learn about China, but I also gained a new perspective of the United States and more self-awareness. It was a unique experience that I would do all over again."
